

The Mission Letter from Nanaimo, 2025 Summer

“I planted the seed, Apollos watered it, but God has been making it grow.
So neither the one who plants nor the one who waters is anything, but only God, who makes things grow.” (1 Corinthians 3:6–7)

Hallelujah! Greetings in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. We pray that this letter finds you well and in good health. Just as the summer sun shines brightly, we also pray that your faith and passion for the Lord will continue to burn brightly in this season.

Summer is a time of growth and change. As we watch the children of our church growing week by week, we are reminded of our Father God who lovingly nurtures His children. We remain humbled before Him, who has caused Nanaimo Native Victory Church to grow until now, and we desire to continue bringing joy to His heart. We are deeply grateful to you, our beloved partners in Christ, who walk with us in this journey of faith.

1) 2025 Vacation Bible School (VBS)

This July and August, we held our 2025 Vacation Bible School by God’s grace. We believe that through the mission teams, the life of Jesus was faithfully shared with our children. Our prayer is that they will grow into people who freely share the love they have received with many others.

In addition, volunteers served joyfully with their talents—through haircuts, deck construction, painting, and building repairs. Areas of the church that had long been neglected were renewed, and along with that, the hearts and faces of our First Nation brothers and sisters in worship also became brighter.

Just as a cord of three strands is not easily broken, the mission of God becomes richer and stronger because of the faithful prayers and generous support of partners like you. We sincerely thank the mission team for giving their precious time, resources, and love for the work of God’s Kingdom.

2) Gospel Cultural Performances & Community Dinners

On July 5 and 17, we hosted cultural performances for our Native members and neighbors we met through the Food Bank, proclaiming the truth of the Gospel. On August 24, we held a summer music concert, followed by lovingly prepared dinners where we shared fellowship together. Through a children's violin camp, we also discovered the musical gifts of Native children and dreamed with them about their future.

It is never easy to invite those who do not yet know Jesus, or those who once believed but walked away, back into the church. But because each soul is more precious than the whole world, we remember the broken heart of Jesus, and we keep praying, inviting, and sharing the Gospel with perseverance.

All of your service and devotion to the Native community this summer—whether in sharing, performing, teaching, or giving—was an offering of love to the Lord. Whether planting or watering, you have obeyed, and we trust that God will bring the growth in His perfect time

3) News from Port Hardy

In Port Hardy, about ten First Nation youth gather every Thursday for worship. In Port Rupert, a spiritually dry land, worship continues faithfully every Sunday at 3 p.m.

From August 11–14, twelve of our youth attended the AYC Conference in Nanoose Bay. Through fundraising efforts and God's abundant provision, all twelve were able to attend and experience God's grace. From August 19–23, VBS was held in Quatsino, where children from Quatsella and surrounding villages gathered for a joyful taste of heaven.

Please pray for the precious children of Quatsino, that they may grow in faith, for workers to continue serving in these communities, and for young graduates not to wander but to discover God's vision for their lives. May the thirsty souls of the Native peoples encounter the Lord.

4) News from Glad Tidings Church

At Alert Bay's Glad Tidings Church, a volunteer team of nine came from afar in June and July to help with much-needed building repairs. Thanks to their hard work, the basement bathrooms, kitchen, and dining room were beautifully renovated, allowing us to carry out ministry in a more welcoming environment.

From July 27–31, together with a youth short-term mission team, we held VBS and a Korean Festival. Over ten local children participated, learning about the love of Jesus, playing Korean games, and enjoying many fun activities. The team also served through hospital worship ministry, children's soccer, and other outreach programs.

All of this was possible because of the prayers and dedication of partners like you. Thank you so much! Please continue to pray that the children and families we met through VBS will be led to the church, that the Glad Tidings mission team will be strengthened in reaching Cormorant Island with the Gospel, and that ongoing electrical and heating renovations will be completed smoothly.

5) Rev. Benjamin Chung and Pastor Sullivan Yang appointed

This past May, Rev. Benjamin Chung joined us with a vision for training missionaries for North American Native ministry. A seasoned pastor with over 30 years of hands-on mission experience, he earned his doctorate by studying the unique culture of Canadian Native peoples and effective Gospel approaches. Having previously served Nanaimo Native Victory Church, he holds a special love for this ministry. He now travels between mission sites, provides practical support, and even directs church construction projects.

In July, Pastor Sullivan Yang also joined Nanaimo Native Victory Church with six children, carrying a burning vision for First nation ministry after serving in Ontario. We praise God for the new things He will do through Rev. Benjamin and Sullivan. Please keep them in prayer as they faithfully carry out their calling.

6) please Pray for the North American First Nation Mission center and Northern Mission Exploration Trip

Founded in 1960 by Native believers, Nanaimo Native Victory Church has faithfully served in First Nation missions for decades. Though there were seasons when the doors nearly closed due to hardships, by God's grace the church continues to serve not only Nanaimo but also the northern parts of Vancouver Island, reopening closed churches and sending out pastors.

Still, the harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few. Now more than ever, there is an urgent need for trained missionaries who deeply understand Native culture and ministry. Please pray with us for the establishment of a North American Native Mission Center, where future missionaries can be equipped and sent out strategically.

In addition, from August 31 to September 13, we will embark on an 8,000 km mission exploration trip from Vancouver to the Northwest Territories and as far as Tuktoyaktuk. We pray that under God's heart and plan for these regions, we may discover strategies to share the Gospel effectively. Please pray for a safe journey and for God's provision.
